

ALL FOR LOVE OF A LADY

Fair Mabel Grimes is the Cause of a Bloody Battle.

The workshop in the rear of A. H. Schlueter's store on Washington street, was temporarily turned into an arena yesterday afternoon when Bertram G. Spencer, a clerk, and Henry Winkler, another clerk, engaged in a bloody struggle over the favor of Miss Mabel Grimes, also an employee of the store.

As a result of the fight Winkler was arrested today by Detective Lynch, on a charge of attempt to commit mayhem.

HAS A BAD EYE.

Spencer exhibits an eye that was nearly gouged out of his head, and a finger which was nearly chewed off as evidence that his antagonist intended to commit mayhem. Winkler has been released on $1,000 bail.

According to the stories told by the interested parties, Miss Grimes is the innocent cause of much trouble.

EYES FOR DOLLS.

"I was sitting in the work room of the store yesterday afternoon," says Clerk Spencer, "putting 'yes in some dolls. Winkler came in and demanded to know if I had been unduly attentive to Miss Grimes, a young woman with whom he has been keeping company."

"That is none of your business," I said, and went on with my work.

"I demand to know if you have been paying attentions to Miss Grimes," he again asked.

"I replied, as I said, 'That is none of your business.'"

"I want to know by yes or no," he said, "if you have been paying any attention to Miss Grimes?"

STRUCK HIM.

"For the third time," replied that it was none of his business, and without warning he struck me on the jaw. I was in a sitting posture and fell among some screens. Before I could recover myself he was on top of me and jabbed his fingers into my eyes. After getting his finger in my left eye, he tried to gouge it out. He nearly succeeded. I tried to shove his face away and he opened his mouth and caught my finger and nearly succeeded in biting that off."

NOT ENGAGED.

Winkler says that while he has been keeping company with Miss Grimes, he is not engaged to her. In reference to the story told by Spencer, he admits the fight, but says that Spencer's version of the cause is incorrect.

"I asked Spencer," he says, "if he had said that I had been making slanderous remarks about the lady in question. He refused to answer, and told me that it was none of my business. I then bit him. In the mix-up he got his finger in my mouth and I bit it. He was then trying to choke me."

PRINTERS' STRIKE COMPLETE

WANT UNIFORM TAX

CHICAGO, August 31.—The strike of printers against members of the Chicago Typographic union was practically made complete today. Members of the typographical union declared that the only important members of the employing printers' organization working non-union printers had promised to remain neutral in the struggle.

Eight of the leading shops are said to have arranged such a truce with the union. Four concerns in addition to those previously affected became involved overnight, and the union composers aggregating 100 in number, failed to report for duty today. President Wright of the Typographical Union said today that the only strikes now in prospect are those which may be made necessary by unaffected houses attempting to do the work for the strike affected houses.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., August 31.—The National Firemen's Association in convention here has adopted a report providing for the appointment by President McNeill of a committee to work for State and national legislation in favor of a uniform insurance tax.

YOUNG GIRL SAYS SHE WAS INSULTED

Officer Fenton Thompson Will Have to Answer Miss Lyda Breen's Charges.

MISS LYDA BREEN.

Although the members of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners refuse to discuss the charges preferred by pretty 15-year-old Lyda Breen, daughter of former Fire Chief Breen of 865 Milton street, against Policeman Fenton Thompson, the mother of the young lady, fully corroborates the story published in last night's TRIBUNE to the effect that the police officer, who is a married man, was to be tried on a charge of ungentlemanly and improper conduct. The police officer had his preliminary trial yesterday behind closed doors and every effort was made to keep the matter a profound secret.

DENIES THE CHARGE. Thompson denies with vigor that there is anything in the charges of Miss Breen and states at the proper time he can prove that his conduct toward her was at all times proper and that he in no manner overstepped the bounds of decency. He says that at no time did he make an improper proposal to the girl and that he never said that he would arrest her for vagrancy in event that she did not receive his attentions.

MOTHER IRATE. The mother of the young girl is a very irate woman and tells her side of the story with much indignation. She alleges that the police officer was attracted by the beauty of her daughter and sought to make the acquaintance of the girl while she was passing to and from her work in a candy store on San Pablo avenue.

Mrs. J. J. Jacobs, who resides at Milton street, corroborates the statements of Mrs. Breen, partially, by stating that Policeman Thompson had discussed the beauty of Miss Breen with her and had made inquiries of a varied nature.

This is what the mother says: "When I learned from my daughter what had transpired I was frantic and resolved to act at once. I have taken the matter before the Police Commissioners, and if they do not act I will shoot Thompson to protect my daughter's honor. His remarks to her are too shameful for me to repeat, and he threatened to arrest her for vagrancy if she did not do as he wished. This matter dates back over several months. My daughter secured a position some time ago in a candy store on San Pablo avenue. Thompson made it a point to come into the store and ask for a drink. At different times he made remarks about my daughter's beauty to a boy that was employed there. These remarks were always loud enough for Lyda to hear. He next commenced following her from work and on several occasions tried to speak with her. During all of this time my daughter was keeping me informed about his conduct. I kept it from my husband in the hope that if she did not encourage him he would desist. But instead, his approaches became bolder. He finally stopped her on the street and told her that if she would accept his attentions she need never fear being arrested by him. If she would not consent to this, he would arrest her for vagrancy.

STORY CORROBORATED. "Since this has come to my knowledge I have learned of similar cases in the neighborhood. Mrs. J. J. Jacobs, who lives a few doors below me, warned my daughter against this married man. She told Lyda that Thompson had called on her and asked about her. He also remarked about the looks of my daughter."

Mrs. Jacobs corroborates the statement of her neighbor, "Thompson called on me," she said when seen, "and inquired about Miss Breen. At that time I was surprised, as I knew he was a married man, and judged from his questions and the manner in which he asked them, that his in-

KILLS SELF AND CHILD

WIFE OF PROMINENT PUEBLO MAN COMMITS SUICIDE AND MURDER.

PUEBLO, Colo., August 31.—The bodies of Mrs. L. B. Haver, wife of a prominent real estate dealer, and her five-year-old son, were recovered from the Reservoir ditch early today.

The bodies were securely tied together with a stout cord.

"The woman is said to have been in poor health for some time. No explanation was left by her for taking her own life or that of the child.

TAKES BACK HIS WATCH

Erstwhile Lovers' Amuse Spectators in Police Court.

When erstwhile sweethearts meet in court, on opposite sides of a case, interesting developments may be expected during the taking of testimony, as was proven this morning in Police Judge Smith's court when Frank B. Johnson, a baker, recovered by search warrant proceedings, a gold watch from his old flame, Miss Ida Huttis and her new friend, M. C. Garthoffner, a San Francisco clerk.

It seems at one time during the love affairs of Miss Huttis and Johnson, when she was employed on this side of the bay as a clerk in a local department store, that she was taken ill and put her sweetheart to the test of raising money for her to procure medicine. Johnson responded with alacrity and "soaked" his watch for $4. Out of this small sum he gave Miss Huttis $5.00 and retained $1 for himself. He then gave her the pawn ticket so that she could redeem the watch and present it to him at the proper time.

MEETS ANOTHER. After Miss Huttis recovered from her indisposition she went to San Francisco and chanced to meet Mr. Garthoffner. A mutual friendship sprang up and, according to the testimony Miss Huttis offered the pawn ticket to her new acquaintance on the condition that he take the watch out of pawn and pay her the difference between the value of the watch and what the pawn ticket called for. Mr. Garthoffner thought the watch a good one and gave Miss Huttis $17.

On learning of this transaction Johnson became very wrath and upbraided his former sweetheart. He then decided on search warrant proceedings and recovered the watch. Johnson, who stands by his word, said that he had never given Miss Huttis the pawn ticket or the watch and that he wanted his property back.

GIVES PRESENT BACK. While Miss Huttis was testifying as to the watch and the various purposes to which it had been put, she espied a pin worn by Johnson which she had given to him.

"May it please your Honor," said the witness, "Mr. Johnson has a pin on him now which belonged to my father. When we were engaged I gave it to him. I would like to have it now."

Mr. Johnson did not wait for any direction of the Court, but began to tug at the pin to get it loose. He turned very red during the operation, but finally managed to get it free and handed it to his former sweetheart, who was in a very scornful mood.

After the proceedings came to an end Miss Huttis called on Johnson to surrender other pieces of jewelry he had belonging to her which were mementos of their former relations. Johnson agreed to surrender all of the jewelry and the three interested parties left the courtroom together, making remarks without much compliment to them.

WRIGHT IS CHAMPION

NEWPORT, R. I., August 31.—Beals C. Wright of Boston today defeated Holcombe Ward of Orange, N. J., holder of the national tennis singles championship in three straight sets—6-1, 6-2, 11-9.

To win the national tennis championship or to defend that honor successfully was the task before Wright and Ward. When they came together at the Casino Ward held the title, while Wright had fought his way through the all-comer's tournament and had won the privilege of challenging the champion.

VIEWED THE ECLIPSE LONDON, August 31.—A telegram from Sir Norman Lockyer, chief of the eclipse party at Palma, Island of Majorca, says:

"The results were indifferent, owing to unfavorable weather here."

Prof. Callendar, of the Royal College of Science, London, reports from Castellon de la Plana, near Valencia, Spain, that the first and last contacts were observed in a clear sky, and that good records of the radiation and temperature were obtained.

FOOT IS CRUSHED. James Lieberatto, an Italian, aged forty, had his left foot crushed this morning at a turn table belonging to the Key Route ferry system. He was engaged in turning a car around when his foot was caught and the weight came against it. His injury was treated at the Receiving Hospital by Dr. L. D. Riggan.

NO ARMISTICE FOR THE OPPOSING ARMIES

When the Treaty is Complete Hostilities Will be Declared at an End.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 31.—In American fashion, the summer guests at the Wentworth Hotel have assumed that the peace negotiations are practically ended and are leaving by every train. The plenipotentiaries realize, however, that there are many details to be arranged, and are receiving and sending cablegrams. Mr. De Martens and Mr. Denison are for the time the main workers. They are framing the treaty and calling to their assistance from time to time those delegates whose advice they need.

NO ARMISTICE. Up to noon neither the Russian nor the Japanese mission had received any information regarding an armistice.

The conclusion of a formal armistice is, however, not so important or urgent as to create alarm. If one or two days elapse before it is proclaimed.

As a matter of fact a tacit understanding has existed ever since the countries accepted President Roosevelt's invitation of the plenipotentiaries to Portsmouth that there should be no general engagement until the result of the conference was known.

NOT TO GIVE BATTLE. Oyama and Linovitch were ordered not to give battle without specific instructions from their home governments. Neither side desired a formal suspension of hostilities before the meeting, as it would be subject to misconstruction.

The peace conference had no precedent in history. Never before through the intermediary of a neutral power have warring countries met to talk of peace, where the one who suffered the defeat refused to acknowledge it had been vanquished and came not begging for peace, but with his head still aloft, only seeking it for its own sake. To have followed the customary procedure of arranging a formal truce before the meeting, therefore, would have placed Russia in the very attitude which she disdained.

TAKES A WALK. For the first time since his arrival here M. Witte this morning went out for a walk, which he said he felt very much in need of, having practically had no exercise since he went aboard the Kaiser Wilhelm at Cherbourg. Although the weather was disagreeable and rain threatened he said he enjoyed his stroll.

When M. Witte returned, M. Blanc submitted to him the work he had prepared for the afternoon's meeting at the Navy Yard, which, like yesterday's, will be at 1 o'clock.

THE TREATY. M. De Martens, after working practically all the morning, had drafted the whole treaty after the Russian interpretation of the agreement reached by the plenipotentiaries. His discussions with Mr. Denison, the Japanese legal adviser, were chiefly on the form and interpretation to be given certain words in the French text of the treaty. Baron Rosen left the hotel in a motor-car this morning, supposedly for Magnolia.

Baron Rosen returned to the hotel shortly after 12 o'clock, the rumor of his going to Magnolia proving to be incorrect.

NO WORD RECEIVED. The members of the Japanese mission do not see anything strange in the fact that no word has been received from Japan giving the impression there of the conclusion of peace under the conditions agreed upon between the two plenipotentiaries. One of the most influential members of the mission, speaking to the correspondent of the Associated Press said he would not be surprised if the exact conditions of peace were not known by the great majority of the public, as the Government, very likely, desires that the official announcement should be made only after the Emperor had ratified the agreement concluded at Portsmouth.

NO INFORMATION. TOKIO, August 30, 11 A. M.—The public here are still without information regarding the arrangements of the peace envoys at Portsmouth. The terms of peace are not known here especially the conditions concerning the island of Sakhalin and the amount of reimbursement.

Despite the lack of information many people are convinced that the Japanese government has made substantial concessions, and already are criticizing and objecting. Unless the terms prove to be better than were anticipated it is certain that the compact will prove unpopular and be bitterly assailed by the press and by the Diet, which is expected to meet in special session shortly. The radical elements are asserting that Cabinet changes

EMPEROR THANKS PRESIDENT

Nicholas is Pleased With the Peace Terms.

OYSTER BAY, August 31.—Emperor Nicholas of Russia has recognized gratefully the part which President Roosevelt played in the negotiations for peace. In a cablegram received by President Roosevelt, Emperor Nicholas congratulated and thanked the President for his efforts. The cablegram follows:

"Peterhof, August 31.—President Roosevelt: Accept my congratulations and earnest thanks for having brought the peace negotiations to a successful conclusion, owing to your personal energetic effort. Our country will gratefully recognize the great part you have played in the Portsmouth peace conference."

NICHOLAS. That the Russian Emperor has thanked President Roosevelt for his efforts toward peace between Russia and Japan was to have been expected, but it is especially significant that in his cablegram, Emperor Nicholas extended to President Roosevelt his "warmest thanks for having brought the peace negotiations to a successful conclusion." The dispatch is regarded as one of the most remarkable of its kind ever sent by the head of one nation to that of another.

Congratulatory messages are still pouring in upon the President, the executive force here is completely swamped, and it will be many days before acknowledgment of the receipt of all messages can be sent out. It will be impossible for the President himself to respond to the felicitations of his friends everywhere, but in the course of time the sender of each message will receive a response.

KILLED BY BLAST LANCASTER, Pa., August 31.—Three Slavs and an Italian were blown to pieces by the premature explosion of a blast near Safe Harbor last night. Another Slav is missing, and is believed to have been blown into the river, and two Slavs and a negro were badly injured.

The men were engaged in loading a blast hole fifty feet deep and had just placed in the dynamite and detonating cap. It is supposed the tamping rod struck this cap.

THINK CRISIS PAST

NEW ORLEANS, August 31.—The steady growth of confidence that the crisis has been passed is shown in the tone of the stock market, and recovery from the slump of six weeks ago. With only four deaths in the preceding twenty-four hours, September, the worst month in fever epidemics, is approached without apprehension.

FEAR THE STATE LAW. CHICAGO, August 31.—Notwithstanding the action of the Chicago Board of Trade in lifting the ban on trading in puts and calls, there was no disposition to do any trading of that character today. Puts and calls are contrary to the Illinois State statutes. Threats of prosecution under the statute seemed to be, for the day at least, an effectual offset to the action of the Board of Trade.

COMES TO SEE ROOSEVELT. NEW YORK, August 31.—On what he said was a secret mission to see President Roosevelt, Mincanor Obarrío, a prominent citizen of Panama, arrived in this city today on the steamer Hayana from Colon. Mr. Obarrío was one of the original jurists which was instrumental in establishing the independence of Panama.

HOW TO FIND OUT

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble, too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHEELMAN KILLED BY A CAR

NICHOLAS GUIRACH TRIES TO AVOID ONE VEHICLE AND IS STRUCK BY ANOTHER.

Nicholas Guirach, a cook eighteen years of age, residing at 1316 East Twenty-fifth street while riding home last night on a bicycle, was caught between two electric cars on the Twelfth street dam and instantly killed. One of the cars, No. 104 of the Alameda line, under the charge of Motorman L. H. Johnson and Conductor H. Hansen, was eastbound. The other car was a Fourth avenue car and was westbound.

As nearly as can be ascertained the bicyclist came to his death by trying to turn out of the path of the Alameda car and being struck by the other. Both of the cars were being propelled at a high rate of speed at the time of the accident. The rider was observed from view just before he was struck and there was no opportunity of stopping the car. The deceased was apparently unaware of the approach of the second car and was seeking only to avoid the one on the Alameda line.

Guirach's skull was badly fractured and his body was ground up by the wheels of the car. Death was almost instantaneous.

The remains have been taken charge of by Coroner Mehrmann, who will hold an inquest next Monday evening to fix the responsibility for the accident. The parents of the deceased reside at San Jose and have been notified.

BLAKER IS HELD

Must Answer With Others For Cook Murder.

George Blaker was held to answer to the Superior Court this morning by Justice Geary of East Oakland, on the charge of murdering Thomas Cook, the grocer in Fruitvale, about two months ago. When the court opened, the case was submitted by the attorney for the defendant.

The preliminary examination of the accused had been continued from last Friday until this morning at the request of Ex-Judge Trick, attorney for the accused.

At Friday's session Eugene Van Court read, under oath, a stenographic report of an alleged confession of the murder by Blaker, to a former pal, James Crowhurst, who was confined in a cell in the County Jail under that in which Blaker was immured.

The words spoken in the cell above were taken down stenographically by Reporter Van Court, as were the questions propounded to the man in the cell upstairs, who was supposed to be Blaker.

After the alleged confession had been read, Sheriff Barnett was asked to take the stand, and in response to questions by Attorney Frick, testified that when last he was aware of the occupants of the cells in question the places were occupied by two Federal prisoners who had, either in the examination, refused to testify to anything which they might have learned from Blaker and his pals when they associated with one another in the County Jail.

It was thought that Attorney Frick would put those men on the stand today with a view possibly to showing some inconsistency in the occupancy of the cells. But the prisoners in question did not appear, Attorney Frick announcing that, the defense rested.

No direct evidence was introduced for the defendant, although Attorney Frick submitted some of the witnesses for the prosecution to questions with a view to finding out points of the prosecution which were not expressly shown in the direct evidence.

Blaker was unmoved when the commitment was announced, and was led from the court back to the County Jail. There were a number of the young male friends of the accused in court at the time, but his sisters, who had attended the earlier sessions of

POET TELLS OF SOMOA

Anthropological Society Holds Final Meeting.

BERKELEY, August 31.—Charles Keeler, a poet of Berkeley, was one of the important figures at the meeting of the American Anthropological Association, which held its concluding session at the University today. Mr. Keeler has studied for years the folk tales of the Samoan Islands, and this morning he read an interesting paper on that subject. He spoke of the creation of myths and the folk stories of the Manus Islands in Samoa. His paper was one of the most deeply interesting of all the scores of papers that have been read during the three days' session of the association.

S. O. Barrett of the University of California read a paper this morning entitled "Basket Designs of the Poma Indians."

A paper on "Mechanical Aids to the Study and Recording of Languages" was read by Dr. P. E. Goddard of the Department of Anthropology of the University of California. Dr. Goddard has made a particular study of the language of California Indians, and has used phonograph machines in that work. His paper this morning being devoted to a description of these machines.

Dr. J. C. Merriam of the University of California read a paper on "Some Suggestions Concerning the Origin of the Calaveras Skull."

This concluded the papers which were read during the morning session. Luncheon was served at noon in the iron building on the campus, erected by Mrs. Hearst for the housing of the treasures which the University scientists have accumulated as the result of her contribution to the University.

The luncheon was arranged by Mrs. Hearst.

During the afternoon session the following papers were read: "Tanda," "Popenic," "Puhling," by C. F. Newcomer; "Peopling of the Philippines," by Dr. Albert E. Jenks, who was chief of the anthropological survey for the Philippines Islands; "The Maya Inscriptions and Covenants," by J. P. Goodman of Alameda; "Systematic Nomenclature in American Ethnology," by Dr. A. L. Kroeger, secretary of the department of anthropology at the University of California.

While on their way from San Francisco to Berkeley this morning the members of the association visited the grounds in the vicinity of Emeryville and Sausalito, examining the scenes of the investigations which have been conducted during the past two years by Dr. Merriam and his assistants from the University of California.

NO ARMISTICE FOR OPPOSING ARMIES

PUBLIC NOT MOVED.

The mass of the public is not moved. There unquestionably is a feeling of great relief that hostilities have ended and that the men of the great army will return home, be disbanded and re-enter the walks of peace. This feeling, however, is without public manifestation. There have been no processions, no display of flags, nor other marks of popular rejoicing. The capital city continues normally quiet and reports from throughout the Empire indicate a similar condition.

THE INDEMNITY.

LONDON, August 31.—M. Takahashi, the financial commissioner of Japan, in an interview today said:

"The Japanese Government in prosecuting the war never had in mind the question of having to depend upon an indemnity. The Government had prepared itself for any emergency, and at the present moment there is no less than $175,000,000 uncommitted in London, Germany and the United States."

"This being the case, I see no necessity for the issue of a new loan. Had peace not been concluded, my government would have raised an internal loan of $50,000,000 for the further prosecution of the war. This was the plan at the time the conference met. I consider that the present resources of Japan are ample for clearing up the war and meeting incidental expenses involved."

When questioned regarding the conditions of peace, Mr. Takahashi said:

"All far-seeing Japanese will hold with satisfaction the conclusion of peace, although there must be a feeling of general regret that Russia did not display a more reasonable attitude in recognizing that Japan's terms were not only reasonable but very modest. In the circumstances, all Japanese who take a broad-minded view of the situation must recognize that the decision of their Emperor was the wisest possible. The Government insisted on an indemnity. It is clear that the war would have continued. The objects for which the war was waged already had been more than achieved, and to continue the war for a pecuniary consideration would not have been worthy of Japan. I do not share the view that this is a patched-up peace, or that future conflicts are likely to ensue. Such a contingency has been already provided for in the Anglo-Japanese Alliance."

Mr. Takahashi looks for one of the earliest developments in the Far East in the education of China by Western methods, which has already commenced.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 31.—The general tone of the press this morning was one of satisfaction. The Novoye Vremya is a notable exception. The paper refuses to believe in the success of peace, and contends that it is only a stage toward a new struggle between Russia and Japan. The Novoye Vremya's article (Sensar) is a lurid description of the President Roosevelt for his action, which the paper says "was regrettable, impolitic and even disastrous for Russia."

The Otechestvo says:

"After a shameful war, Russia could certainly lay claim to an honorable peace. She should congratulate herself on the cessation of the war, the continuance of which would cost greater sacrifices."

The radical papers express pleasure at the conclusion of the war, which they hope will be followed by a concerted effort at internal development.

YOUNG GIRL SAYS WAS INSULTED

tentions were not the best. For that reason I told Miss Breen to avoid having anything to do with him."

When seen today Policeman Thompson denied the charges made by Miss Breen. He said:

"I take 'seen this young woman coming home often late at night and associating with men who were intoxicated. I told her that she would have to keep better hours or I would arrest her. On what charge I never stated, nor did I threaten her in any way. I first notified her father that I had seen his daughter in the company of a drunken man one night. I did this as a friend, as I have known her parents for twenty years. If I had arrested her instead I would have made an enemy. I invite an investigation."

DENIES RESPONSIBILITY.

In regard to the statement made to the effect that Chief of Police Hodgkins had inspired the attack upon Thompson on the ground of politics, the Chief says:

"I knew nothing of the charges. They were filed with the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners direct. I had no knowledge of what transpired until after the charges had been filed."

Thompson will come up regularly for trial probably at the next meeting of the Board.

POLICEMAN TOBIN DIVORCED

Mary E. Tobin was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce this morning from Policeman I. D. Tobin, one of the city's finest. The court found that in the dispute which led up to their separation, the wife's allegations outweighed those of her husband's and she was granted the decree. Mrs. Tobin accused her husband of being friendly with other women and he alleged that she was jealous and cruel.

They were married in 1890 and have one child, a son, fourteen years of age of whom she was given the custody. He was also ordered to pay her $15 a month alimony, $15 for herself and $15 a month for the care of their child. The decree was granted by Judge Melvill at the instance of Police Judge Mortimer Smith, acting as the attorney for Mrs. Tobin.

CITIZENS URGE COUNCIL TO GRANT FRANCHISE

Interviews With Many Prominent Business Men in Favor of New Telephone Company

Public Sentiment Strongly Favors Welcoming Legitimate Competition—Merchants Give Their Views.

Prominent citizens continue to come forward with expressions strongly in favor of the Council granting the application of the Home Telephone Company a franchise in Oakland. A number of interviews are printed below:

M. J. KELLER.

M. J. Keller, of M. J. Keller & Co., men's furnishing goods, 1159 Washington street.—Another telephone company will be a good thing for this city. I hope to see the Home Company enter the field and establish its automatic system. The competition will be beneficial to the companies themselves because it will continually stimulate them into improving their service. If the automatic system is all that is claimed for it, I don't see how we can make a mistake in granting them a franchise. I hope the Council disposes of the matter tonight, grants the franchise and permits the company to begin the work of installing the system immediately.

JOHN P. MAXWELL.

John P. Maxwell, hardware, 1164-66 Washington street.—No business enterprise will keep up to a high standard of perfection without competition. If I were the only hardware man here I would not make the effort to improve my stock that competition compels me to make. It is the same with every business, even the telephone business. In order to get the best possible service we must have two companies here. As soon as the new company enters the field I shall have one of their phones, and I shall keep the other company, too. Our Council ought to grant the franchise to demonstrate the fact that we want to be up with the times.

F. M. FARWELL.

F. M. Farwell, painter, Eighth street near Franklin—I am as strongly in favor of having the proposed new telephone company granted a franchise to do business in this city as I ever was in favor of anything which I thought would benefit this city. I believe that a second telephone system would be a prompt and sure way to the way to benefit to Oakland, if, for no other reason than to show that there are people who are anxious to get a chance to do business in this city. All large cities are getting rid of corporate dictation where they can do so and the only way in which that can be done is by legitimate and well-supported competition. Home capital cannot give us this competition, as it has elsewhere, so we ought to welcome such assistance when it comes from abroad. The Home Telephone Company offers to put up a bond of $100,000 that it will carry out the conditions of the franchise granted to it, and this bond also covers the condition that the new company will not sell out to any competitor. That satisfies me.

EDWIN STEARNS.

Edwin Stearns, Secretary of the Board of Trade—It has been a part of my business to induce capital to come here and it would be inconsistent for me to oppose the introduction of the Home Telephone. It has operated successfully other places and Oakland cannot afford to be without something that is a success. The Home Company certainly is entitled to the speedy granting of their application for a franchise.

DANIEL DOODY.

Daniel Doody, master painter, corner Ninth and Webster streets.—There is no good reason for depriving Oakland of the money which the Home Telephone will spend here and the Council should grant the franchise as asked. Competition, improvement of service and a modern telephone are things which should weigh heavily with the city fathers when the franchise is considered.

DR. C. F. GROSS.

Dr. C. F. Gross, dentist—I am certainly in favor of the City Council granting a franchise to the new company. Capital should not be discouraged. The benefits will doubtless outweigh whatever inconvenience the maintenance of two telephones will involve. The Council should certainly ly grant the Home Company a franchise.

L. J. HARDY.

L. J. Hardy, attorney and ex-member of Board of Education—My policy has always been to give everyone an equal chance. This new telephone company wants a chance to install its system of telephones here, so I say, give them a franchise and let them put in their lines. What hurt can that do the city? On the contrary, there is a lot of good that may come from it. The old company will make greater efforts to improve its service and patrons will have besides an option in the selection of their telephone. I am candidly in favor of granting the franchise and letting the Home Company install their automatic system.

H. METZGER.

H. Metzger, harness shop, 1281 Broadway.—An automatic telephone system that works well in other cities ought to have a chance to come into Oakland. We don't want to be slower in adopting modern methods than our neighbors, and we certainly don't want to miss a chance to get better telephone service when the chance is presented to us on a platter. I say, grant the franchise and give us the privilege to get the best there is in the telephone systems.

SIG KLEIN.

Sig Klein, Klein Bros., the Vogue Store, 1020 Washington street.—I am decidedly in favor of granting the franchise to the Home Telephone Company. We need another company here to bring competition into the field in order to improve the service. There is no reason why Oakland should remain behind the times, and it certainly will do so if it turns down the appeal of the Home Company. The automatic phones are the 'phones of the future. It is my opinion that they will entirely supplant the manual system within a few years. We will get them some day, so we might as well get them now.

W. SMITH.

W. Smith, clothier, Tenth and Washington streets.—You may put me down as being in favor of the new telephone company. I hope to see them get a franchise and begin business here. Another company, even if they had the same system as the present company, would be a good thing for this city. From what I can learn about the automatic telephone, it is a great improvement over the old system. A method by which we can secure a connection almost instantaneously and keep the connection until both parties are through with the conversation appeals to me as being far ahead of anything we now have.

HARRY R. BROWNE.

Harry R. Browne, Smith-Browne Hardware Company, 13 San Pablo.—Whatever project tends toward progress and improvement of local conditions can have my support. I believe the automatic telephones of the Home Telephone Company are an improvement over the manual system, and I also think the presence in the city of a rival company will have a good effect upon the entire service of the present company. I favor the project and hope the franchise is granted tonight.

F. W. SHARPE.

F. W. Sharpe, jeweler, 1170 Broadway—I am in favor of granting the Home Telephone Company a franchise. Their automatic system is working so well in Los Angeles and other cities that I see no reason why it would not do as well in Oakland. It is undoubtedly an improvement upon the manual, hello-girl method, which will never be satisfactory, no matter how perfect the mechanism of its construction. The human element involved will always make it subject to imperfections. Furthermore, I favor competition.

M. C. KITTREDGE.

M. C. Kittredge, optician, 1170 Broadway—Put me down for these points favoring the installation of the automatic telephone system in Oakland: quicker service, no disturbed conversations, absolute privacy and a telephone that is always ready when needed. These facts should be sufficient to even impress the City Councilmen when the question of granting the franchise is brought up. I think we will soon have a chance here to use the automatic telephone system.

A. A. ARMSTRONG.

A. A. Armstrong, bicycles, 409 Thirteenth street.—The automatic telephone sounds good to me. I have favored the proposition for a long time, and I hope we will soon see it installed in this city. It's the telephone of the coming age. Any system that prevents broken connections, eavesdropping and assures quick service, certainly has it on the old method. The Council ought to come through with a franchise.

ROBERT DALZIELL.

Robert Dalziell, hardware and plumbing, 416 Thirteenth street.—Yes, sir; I am in favor of the new telephone company, and I want to see the Council grant the franchise. Competition is absolutely essential to good business and it is in this case necessary to improve the service of the Pacific Company. For the general good of this city I certainly am in favor of getting another telephone company in the field.

J. J. HANIFIN.

J. J. Hanifin, wholesale and retail liquor store, 471 Fourteenth.—Anything that is going to benefit the city, and bring competition into an exclusive field, has my endorsement. I do not see that one telephone company should have a monopoly in a city. The people are sure to suffer if it does. Now while the Pacific Telephone Company is doing the best it can under present conditions, I still fancy it will do a whole lot better when it has a competitor. We can easily endure an improvement in our present telephone service.

M. L. RAWSON.

M. L. Rawson, attorney, 906 Broadway—I am opposed to the fostering of any monopoly at the expense of the public, and I believe that the granting of a franchise to the Home Telephone Company or some other company would result in a great benefit to the city. Of the merits of the new company, I know nothing, and these will have to be demonstrated to the people.

W. H. H. GENTRY.

W. H. H. Gentry, attorney, 906 Broadway—I believe that a new company is an absolute necessity. The old system is ancient and antiquated and from what I have heard of the invention now in the hands of the Home Telephone Company it is far and away ahead of the old system and at any rate we need something in the way of competition here to wake things up in the way this public utility is managed.

WALTER E. RODE.

Walter E. Rode, attorney, Bacon Block—I believe that the advent of a new telephone company would result in stirring up things in the community. I have one of the new phones in my office at the present time and while I have not made a thorough test of it I think the company should be granted a franchise. The amount of money the new company will spend in the town in itself will be a benefit.

E. J. TYRELL.

E. J. Tyrell, Clerk of the Board of Works—I am heartily in favor of inviting competition and inducing it to come here. The Home Telephone Company comes highly recommended and should be given a chance. The City Council, in my opinion, will grant the new company a franchise.

A. LEBRECHT.

A. Lebrecht, 953 Chestnut street.—During my recent visit to Los Angeles I had occasion to inspect the workings of the Home, having been in the office of a leading manufacturer, who had on his premises the Sunset, as well as the Home. He told me that the Sunset is a back number in Los Angeles, and to prove his assertion he showed me a directory of subscribers of the Sunset of 1904, and one of this year. I found that this year's directory contains only half of last year's subscribers. Of course, the Sunset will have the advantage for some time to come, as the Home has no connection in the interior. Our people can afford to have the two phones, the price in Los Angeles being as low for both as for one here. Another thing I find in Los Angeles is that you can go in any public place where one has free use of either 'phone. There is no such thing as even asking the privilege here. As our Councilmen are men of good business capacity, there cannot be the least doubt of the granting of a franchise to the Home people.

H. S. ROBINSON.

H. S. Robinson, attorney-at-law—Despite the fact that the coming of the Home Telephone Company will involve the maintenance of two telephones I am in favor of granting the new company a franchise. Competition will abolish bad service and that is what the public wants. Besides it will bring additional revenue to the city.

R. A. JACKSON.

R. A. Jackson, real estate, 1032 Broadway—There is room for two telephone companies and as the competition will result advantageously to the public I am in favor of granting a franchise. The Home Telephone Company appears to be backed by ample money and should be given a chance.

ELECTRICIAN BABCOCK.

City Electrician Babcock—There is little to be said against the Home Telephone Company and much to be said for it, and in my opinion the City Council should grant a franchise. The mechanical simplicity of the automatic telephone and the fact that it will bring competition are two reasons sufficient for the Council to grant a franchise.

DR. P. F. FREAR.

Dr. P. F. Frear, 1015 Tenth avenue—Of all the advantages promised by the Home Telephone Company, it seems to me that privacy is the greatest. Physicians as well as business men know that it is often essential that conversations be absolutely secret. They will not talk about certain things over a manual telephone, knowing that there is always a chance of being overheard. But with the automatic, where one has a direct wire to the person with whom one is speaking, this is impossible. For that reason especially I am in favor of the automatic, and I advocate the granting of the franchise.

E. J. ADAMS.

E. J. Adams, carpenter, 418 Twelfth street—From what I have seen of the automatic telephone on exhibition about town, I am convinced that we ought to have them here in Oakland. They are a great improvement over the old system of operators, and are bound to come in general use. If I had the power of granting the franchise, it would have been done long ago.

DAVID DALZELL.

David Dalzell, salesman, 921 Broadway—You can't keep back the advance of science. It will triumph every time. The automatic telephone system embodies the latest improvements suggested by science, and should be welcomed for that reason. It would have been just as sensible to object to the granting of electric roads when they were first projected.

A. W. STILWELL.

A. W. Stilwell, 1110 Jefferson street—I don't see why Oakland should hesitate about allowing a competing telephone company to do business here. We have two telegraph companies, two railroad companies and a third coming, and another telephone company would do us good. Competition is always a good thing in business for consumers.

J. MSHAY.

J. McShay, contractor, 1115 Poplar street—I believe in giving everybody a chance to do business if it is a square, bona fide proposition. The Home Telephone Company certainly seems to mean business if the terms of the offer made means anything. The Council ought to, and I believe, will grant the franchise.

CHARLES QUIGLEY.

Charles Quigley, cigars, Seventh and Washington—Give the new telephone company a chance to do business if it wants to. Once we have two companies in the field, better service will result, and lower rates. Everyone knows what competition means in business generally, and it is the same thing in the telephone business.

EX-SHERIFF ROGERS.

Oscar Rogers, ex-Sheriff Alameda county—I would favor, by all means, the granting of a franchise to a competing telephone line, more especially where it will result in the reduction of telephone rents. One of the arguments used by some people against the granting of the franchise is that merchants would, of necessity, be ob-

WAS AN EX-CONVICT

It has now been learned that Charles Quinn, the ex-convict who was sentenced to a term of three years at San Quentin by Judge Wadsworth several days ago was an ex-convict and had done a term for burglary here in the County. Quinn pleaded guilty here to a charge of having stolen a horse and buggy which he tried to dispose of at San Mateo while out on a parole with a woman.

After his arrest he was admitted to probation but refused to tell even his true name. The fact of his recidivism was thought to be peculiar and his petition for a grant of release on probation would not be considered. All efforts however to find out what he had been doing failed and his plea of guilty which he was given a three years' sentence, which had his former record been known, would probably have been greatly increased.

NORWAY WILL BE REPUBLIC

Swedish Politician Talks of Scandinavian

CHICAGO, August 31.—Dr. P. Waldenström, one of the leading figures in Swedish politics, close friend of King Oscar, member of the Riksdag for twenty years and a leader in a religious reform in Scandinavian countries, reached Chicago yesterday for a brief stay.

In an interview, Dr. Waldenström asserted that Norway was drifting with apparent certainty toward the formation of a republic. While Norway, he declared, may yet get a King, his personal view was that the Republicans as against the friends of the monarchical idea were gaining ground. Dr. Waldenström said the Swedish and Norwegian Governments today would begin further negotiations. The Norwegian Storting is expected to assemble within a few weeks.

Asked if Sweden accepted in good faith the recent referendum vote in Norway for dissolution, Dr. Waldenström replied that the vote did not properly express the views of the Norwegian people as a whole. He then disclosed an alleged trick by which, he stated, the tremendous affirmative vote was obtained.

"The ballots used at the polls all were marked 'yes' and no one was expected to vote 'no' in any event," said the doctor. "The only way a negative vote could be cast was by writing out a special ballot. In addition, the men in charge of the election showed strong antipathy to any one's casting a negative ballot, and persecution, or what amounted to it, followed him who few in the face of the influence behind the referendum."

Dr. Waldenström said the action of Norway had been a hard blow to King Oscar, who, he declared, had aged rapidly in the past few months.

USE DYNAMITE AS TARGET

YOUTHS SHOOT AT EXPLOSIVE, SET OFF MAGAZINE AND ARE KILLED.

SANTA FE, N. M., August 31.—Jose Martinez and Eudore Romero, youths, have been killed by the explosion of a box of dynamite they used for a target, half a mile from Chama, Rio Arriba county. The boys were rabbit hunting.

Not finding any game, when they reached the powder house of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway Company, near Chama, they set up a box of dynamite as a target. The box contained 400 pounds of the explosive, and its explosion set off four tons of powder.

In Chama many window panes were broken.

BALDWIN MAKES SUCCESSFUL ASCENT

PORTLAND, Ore., August 31.—Yesterday another successful airship flight

was made by Captain Baldwin's airship, "City of Portland." The machine was always under perfect control, the navigator being able to turn as he chose and sail both with and against the wind. He circled around the exposition grounds several times, then he returned to the Aerodrome from whence the start was made.

BARNUM WAS RIGHT: Newport society has been sadly jarred by the disclosure of the fact that an astrologer of wonderful power was merely a utilizer of trifles picked up here and there and reported to him by a confederate. We regard with amusement the vulgar herd who are anxious to hear all about their past and to have their future peered into by charlatans, but it appears that the upper crust, despite its superior advantages, takes as much pleasure in being bunked as the silliest servant girl.—San Francisco Chronicle.

COLD STORAGE AT PANAMA

CHAIRMAN SHONTS OF CANAL
COMMISSION INVESTIGATES
GATES PLAN.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—Chairman Shonks of the Isthmian Canal Commission has returned after a trip to Oyster Bay and to New York where he looked into the details of establishing cold storage facilities on the Isthmus. The plan includes refrigerators on the ships, a big cold storage warehouse at Colon, and ten refrigerators on the Isthmus in five days and delivered on short notice without any danger of spoiling, said Mr. Shonks.

Food will be bought in Jamaica and in the United States by the commission and sold to the clerical and boarding forces on the Isthmus. We shall make neither profit nor loss. Between $600 and $800 laborers, mostly gathered from the zone and from Jamaica, are digging on the canal. In two or three months the work on the canal will be in full swing.

As to whether it will be a ship canal rests with the board of engineers. I have no opinion to express. I have only to say that the canal will be built that it will be the most efficient for all commerce.

EVERY COMFORT AT CIRCUS

PATRONS OF THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH WILL EVEN HAVE A FOOTREST.

It is frankly admitted by every one that all the improvements to be seen today in the modern circus are due entirely to the spirit of progress animating the management of the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth. As travel broadens the vision and expands the minds of travelers, so likewise does it with the circus manager. Therefore the greatest novelties yet seen are now introduced for the first time to the American public. One of these much-needed improvements is a foot-rest, which is attached to every seat of the 15,000 in the stupendous amphitheatrical canvas. The foot-rest on every seat every one will concede is a great comfort and a necessity long wished for by the only surprise being it was not done before. It may have been thought of before, but the great expense involved in making the change and carrying the extra material most likely would deter any other show but that of Barnum & Bailey from adopting the new idea. Anyway, visitors to Barnum & Bailey are now assured of more comfort and ease and not compelled to kick a person in the back when seeking a place to rest their feet, nor be kicked by another sitting behind them.

WANT POLITICAL AND CIVIL LIBERTY FOR JEWS

Hebrew Bankers and Merchants
Send Letter to Witte Expressing Their Views.

NEW YORK, August 31.—What is announced to be the full text of a letter concerning Russia's treatment of the Jews submitted to Sergei Witte, the Russian peace envoy, by a committee of Hebrew bankers and merchants, is published today by the American. The communication is signed by Jacob H. Schiff, Jacob Seligman, Adolph Lewisohn and others. It covers thoroughly the arguments and contentions of the committee made recently by the delegation of the Hebrew race now living in the land of Emperor Nicholas. Civil and political liberty for the Jews, on an equality with all other Russian subjects, is the keynote of the communication.

"Mindful of our privilege in meeting you during your recent stay at Portsmouth," the letter says, "we deem it well before you leave the United States to return to your own country to submit in writing, if only for a thorough understanding of the situation, some of the statements to which we gave expression when we had the privilege of visiting you and of listening to your valuable views."

"We believe that the claim of the Russian Government that the Jews in Russia is a purely domestic one, with which the people and government of other countries have no concern, can no longer be maintained. When a government, either through the application of exceptional laws, or by other means, forces upon masses of its subjects to seek to improve their condition through emigration to other countries, the people of those countries which give an asylum to such refugees from persecution and oppression are with good reason entitled to consider the conditions which have caused such an influx into their country, and may properly insist that such conditions shall be improved in such a manner and to such extent that the causes of the forced emigration shall cease to exist, and this without justifying the charge that they are meddling with affairs that should not concern them."

"We, we believe, to be the attitude of the American people in general. We, as Jews, have the added interest in the condition of Russia, which, with its ties of race and faith always and properly call forth, and we deem it, therefore, nothing less than our plain duty to call all in our power to procure an amelioration in their status."

"As we stated to you at our conference, it is our very decided conviction that nothing but the granting of full civil rights to the Jewish subjects of the empire will entirely remove the conditions which have been the cause of so much disturbance in Russia and adverse criticism abroad. You have answered that the Russian Jew in general is not sufficiently prepared for the exercise of full civil rights, and that the feeling of the Russian people is such that the Jew cannot be placed on an equal footing with the native-born subjects of the empire. We are, however, convinced that it is not the Russian Jew in general, but the conditions which have caused such an influx into their country, and may properly insist that such conditions shall be improved in such a manner and to such extent that the causes of the forced emigration shall cease to exist, and this without justifying the charge that they are meddling with affairs that should not concern them."

"We, we believe, to be the attitude of the American people in general. We, as Jews, have the added interest in the condition of Russia, which, with its ties of race and faith always and properly call forth, and we deem it, therefore, nothing less than our plain duty to call all in our power to procure an amelioration in their status."

Tavern Opened by Bishop Potter is Sold.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The Subway Tavern which was opened eleven months ago with an address by Bishop Potter and the singing of the doxology, closed its doors at midnight for the last time as a "sanctified saloon." Today its proprietor, William L. Potter, the place to a man who has conducted the restaurant on the premises. The new owner will take out the "water wagon" sign and after extensive alterations will run the place as an ordinary saloon.

While all those connected with the establishment, who could be seen last night, were roiling concerning the change, several employees in the tavern explained that there had been no running expenses. Instead of the well-known citizens who established the tavern drawing $100 per cent dividend as they expected, it was said that in the last six months they had been compelled so often to go to the police station to pay fines and a deposit that they had become tired and wished to be rid of the tavern entirely.

When the tavern was opened in October, 1904, it was announced that only pure liquors would be sold. One room was reserved for the sale of beer, and women might be served with beer. The outer walls of the buildings were painted with texts of Scripture and highly colored signs, but in the words of one of the bartenders, it was found that "rum and religion would not mix."

Cisco Terra is the name of the newest club organized under the provisions of the Club House Loan Fund. It is for women students and is at present located in Professor Gayley's residence on Piedmont avenue.

On Thursday evening the following members were initiated: Mabel Matson, '08; Nell Johnston, '09; and Leona Ott, '09.

and civil liberty, and that they have shown themselves to be the responsible citizens of this great republic. Nor has it ever been different in modern history and experience. Napoleon in 1808, Germany somewhat later, and Russia even in Cromwell's time, granted, without injury to the state, full civil rights to the Jews, living on equal conditions with the rest of those under which they now live in Russia.

"While it may be true that a state of animosity against the Jews exists among part of the Russian people, for which the Russian Government is to some extent responsible, still, in our opinion, placing the Jew at once on a footing of civil equality with the rest of the population would cause no more friction than each one of the steps leading to the same end. This very objection used by you seems to be a good reason why this should be settled once and for all, instead of allowing it to drag on painfully, creating new disturbances at every stage."

"The claim that among the ranks of those who in Russia are seeking to understand the Jewish situation there are a considerable number of Jews may perhaps be true. In fact, it would be rather surprising if some of those so terribly afflicted by persecution and exceptional laws should not at last have turned against their merciless oppressors. But it is safe to assert that as a whole, the Jewish population of Russia is law-abiding, and there is little doubt that the once given civil rights, with all the opportunities which this will carry with it, the Jew in Russia will become a member of the commonwealth and prove to be as ardent a lover of his country as have been the Jews of every country which has accorded them the rights as citizens. The fact will not be disputed that in the United States the Jew has become an ardent American. In England a loyal Englishman, in France a loyal Frenchman and in Germany a thorough German."

"The people of the United States, as must be known to you, are close observers of all that is taking place in Russia during this momentous period of her existence. Their sympathies are for the time being alienated from Russia, because, liberty and justice-loving, they have recoiled from the horrors of Kishineff and from the terrible conditions which, though long existing, have only now been fully disclosed."

"Jewish influence in the United States, especially in political circles, carries great weight and is steadily increasing, being constantly recruited from the large immigration of Russian Jews."

"Can it be expected that the influence of the American Jew upon public opinion will be exerted to the advantage of the country which systematically degrades his brethren-in-race, making their lives almost unendurable? No matter how many Jews may emigrate, there will always remain a minimum of six or seven million in Russia, and thus it appears quite evident that the Russo-Jewish question must be settled in Russia—settled properly and thoroughly in the enlightened spirit which your imperial master has shown in so many other instances. This vexatious question will remove at once and forever a factor so damaging to Russia at home and abroad. We, therefore, earnestly hope that the exchange of views which has taken place between us may lead to that solution of the Jewish question which other best minds of your country actually desire."

CITY BUSINESS PROGRESSING

NEW BOARD OF TRUSTEES SETTLING DOWN TO ROUTINE WORK.

POINT RICHMOND, August 31.—A meeting of the Board of Trustees was held Tuesday night. The meeting was called to order by President S. R. Curry and Trustees Critchett, Garrard, Kony and Curry were present. The following business was disposed of:

Proposition of J. F. Purdy to rent room in east end of Critchett Hotel, building for a City Hall at a monthly rental of $15 was read and ordered placed on file.

Thomas N. Badger of Oakland, a civil engineer, made application to be appointed City Engineer. Application ordered placed on file.

Trustees Garrard and Critchett reported that they had examined the same and were discharging freely, and for the immediate future no anxiety need be felt regarding any evil effect from this source. They admitted, however, that the stagnant pond must soon have an outlet provided, otherwise it might become dangerous to the public health.

Ordinance No. 9, relating to dog license, and ordinance No. 10, relating to license for retail liquor dealers, were read by title and laid on the table until the next regular meeting.

Ordinance No. 14, imposing license on peddlers and expressmen not having a fixed place of business within said city, was introduced by Trustee Kenny, read by the clerk and on motion was regularly passed by the board.

The report of the rear of the Checkerboard Front Livery Stable was designated as a temporary City Pound.

The clerk was instructed to procure such record books for the several city officers as he may deem necessary. The books were ordered until next regular meeting, which will take place next Tuesday evening.

NEW ENGINE COMING.
The Pacific Coast Oil Company has ordered two new switch engines from Eastern factories, and upon their arrival will do its own switching, taking the work entirely away from the Santa Fe Company. Two switching crews will be employed by the oil refinery and it is expected this method will be much more satisfactory than having the work done by the railroad.

There was a hot blaze at the oil refinery loading rack for a few minutes yesterday. A spark from a switch engine set the woodwork on fire, and but for the prompt response of the fire brigade a disastrous conflagration would have resulted. As it was a few oil cars were badly scorched, but the resultant damage was only slight.

The Farm Labor Question.

The scarcity of labor for the farms, vineyards and orchards is argued as an argument for re-opening our doors to coolie immigration. This argument is simply a demand for cheap servile labor. To be plain, it is nothing more than a complaint because white men will not work for the wages and put up with the food and accommodations the Chinese receive. White men insist upon being fed, lodged and paid like white men. A certain class of rural landowners declare white labor cannot be had or is undesirable because white men will not put up with Chinamen's fare and Chinamen's wages. So long as farmers persist in housing their help like cattle and paying coolie wages they will have to be content with the most shiftless, improvident and unreliable class of white laborers. No other class of men will take intermittent jobs at poor pay, furnishing their own blankets and sleeping in fields, haystacks or filthy bunk houses, and living on the coarsest of badly cooked food.

The farm labor question is not to be settled by trying to drag the white man down to the Chinaman's level. That cannot be done in the first place and it should not be done in the next. The attraction that Oriental labor has for some employers is precisely the reason why it should be excluded. It is cheap and it can be contracted for in bulk through a middleman. Its standard of comfort is loathsome and degrading to a white man. It is a form of peonage abhorrent to our laws and civilization. In the social economy it ranks no higher than the mule and the ox. White men cannot afford to rate in such a standard.

If the farmers and horticulturists desire a sympathetic hearing on this question they must adopt a different attitude. Their cry for cheap servile labor finds no responsive echo outside of greed and selfishness. Public sentiment has no sympathy with the scheme to coolieize the white labor of California. It would be a crime against Christian civilization to do it.

The Trenton "True American" says "The form of wit which makes the apocryphal offer of the Sultan of Sulu to marry Miss Roosevelt, is something from which at least every American newspaper might well have abstained. There has been nothing in the conduct or bearing of the young lady which warrants that sort of critical buffoonery, outside of the back room of a drinking saloon, where coarse gossip finds a ready hearer. The decent readers of newspapers should have been spared it." Amen say we. When the newspaper faker cannot ply his shabby art without making game of an estimable lady and she the daughter of the chief magistrate of the nation, it is time to cry shame. Is it not about time the American press quit printing ridiculous and malicious lies about the President and his family? Is all sense of decency to be sacrificed on the altar of "a good story" of questionable taste and more than doubtful authenticity?

No doubt the Nevada City Miner-Transcript is actuated by friendly motives in defending the integrity of THE TRIBUNE'S news columns, but the defense is superfluous and unnecessary. The accuracy of the statements of this paper is a sufficient answer to all calumnies. Nor can we admit the propriety of debating a proposition which in essence is the assumption by certain self-sufficient journals that they have a right to dictate the editorial policy of their contemporaries. The impudence of pistareen papers printed in interior villages assuming to tell THE TRIBUNE what it should or should not print in its columns is too amusing to be seriously considered. The whole business is a sort of "Who killed Cock Robin" affair that is highly ludicrous. The descendants of the three tailors of Tooley street appear to have emigrated to California and gone to publishing country newspapers. They are diverting, if nothing else, and a little diversion is welcome during the dogdays. Our Nevada contemporary should be able to take a joke.

One of the get-rich-quick justices of the peace in Cleveland has been sentenced to the workhouse for overcharging fees. If he had only overcharged in selling oil he would have been called the leading citizen of the town.

There seems something wrong about this. The Atlanta Journal tells of a Georgia negro named Strickland being held to answer before the United States District Court for holding another negro in peonage. It goes hard with the negro in Georgia who attempts to shoulder the white man's burden.

Bishop Potter's "temperance saloon" at the subway in New York has proved a financial failure. It opened with prayer and closed with a deficit. Thus endeth the first lesson. The cause of morality will not suffer because the effort to mix temperance with the sale of intoxicants has proved abortive. Bishop Potter's motives in lending his countenance and giving his blessing to an enterprise which had profit for its end and served intoxicants as a beverage were unquestionably good, but his judgment was sadly at fault. Whiskey will make people drunk even if it be sold in a place dedicated to temperance.

A Montana man is accused of choking his wife's pet poodle to death and throwing the body in her face. There is where he erred. He should have tossed the carcass into a vacant lot.

The mobbing of two San Francisco autoists in Bohemia furnishes an instructive lesson for autoists in America. It appears that the gentlemen mobbed were guiltless of offense, but that a short time previously another autoist had dashed madly through the village, killing several geese. This so enraged the villagers that they proceeded to stone the next auto that came along, viewing all autoists as enemies. The acts of a certain class of autoists in America, their defiant disregard of the law, their recklessness, and their open contempt for the rights of others are breeding the same feeling here that was manifested by the Bohemian peasants near Carlsbad. The possession of money and an automobile seems to generate a peculiar type of ruffianism the world over.

The Fresno Sunday Mirror thinks Theodore Roosevelt has no business to speak from a pulpit. Of course, of course, it also thinks he has no business to sit in the Presidential chair. The editor of the Mirror is a Democrat and as such has no use for pulpits or Republicans.

It is conjectured that the terms of peace between Russia and Japan include a private compact whereby Japan shall be indemnified for her war expenses by China. Why not? Japan went to war to expel an intruder from Chinese territory. It is true she did so as a measure of self preservation, but she nevertheless rendered China a service of enormous magnitude. If the Japanese shed their blood to expel the Russians from Manchuria, why should not China pay Japan's cost bill?

Two announcements made yesterday are of profound significance to California because they presage a vast and speedy development of the transportation facilities of this coast. One of the announcements is to the effect that contracts have been let for the construction of practically the whole line of the Western Pacific from Salt Lake City to Oakland. The other is that President Harriman of the Southern Pacific has given orders for the immediate survey and construction of a tunnel through the Siskiyou mountains. The completion of these two projects are of vast importance to the commerce of San Francisco and to the development of Northern California, which has hitherto been rather backward in comparison with the section of the State lying south of Sacramento.

SCHOOL TEACHER TAKES SNAPSHOT OF HIGHWAYMAN

DRINK DULLS CAUTION

PHILADELPHIA, August 31.—When Miss Helen and Miss Anna Wilkinson and their mother, Mrs. James Wilkinson, return to their home in West Philadelphia, they will be able to show to their friends a snapshot picture of the highwayman who held up the stage coach in which they were riding to Mariposa Grove, Cal., a few days ago, and robbed them of $10. This is believed to be the first photograph ever taken of a highwayman in action.

From all accounts he was an unusually polite robber, and seemed to be under the influence of wine, empty wine bottles having been found near the scene. After he had made all the passengers get down from the coach, threatening to "shoot them off" if they didn't move quickly, he took everything they had, and then Miss Anna Wilkinson, the younger and more daring of the two sisters, said:

"Please, Mr. Robber, would you let me take a snapshot of you for my collection?"

The robber scratched his head. This was a new one on him, but he did not like to be churlish to a pretty girl, especially after he had taken, as he supposed, all the money she had. As a matter of fact, he didn't get all of it by $200. If he had known that he might not have been so accommodating, but the wine he had imbibed evidently dulled his sense of caution.

OBLIGES FAIR VICTIM.

"I reckon I wouldn't mind, beings I've got the mask on," he said. "But I'm going to keep this revolver on you, and if any of you try to come any funny business on me, I'll blow you all full of holes. I'm workin' under a handicap here, because I ought to have a partner, and you'd better not any of you try to take any unfair advantage of me."

Miss Wilkinson assured the highwayman that she wouldn't think of playing unfair with any one who had been so exceedingly courteous and fair to her, so he posed at her direction, except that he insisted upon keeping the ugly looking blue-steel revolver, of the kind that the cowboys use, very much in the foreground. In the picture it is said to look about the size of a cannon.

REVOLVER IN EVIDENCE.

So the picture was taken and the robber, carrying his plunder in a sack, made his exit backward, like a polite man leaving a parlor, except, of course, for the revolver. Dispatches have told the story of the robbery, but the photograph episode has just reached Philadelphia in letters to friends of the young women.

Among the passengers was Anton Veith, Austrian Consul at Milwaukee. The watch that the highwayman took from him was an heirloom. Mr. Veith explained the circumstances, and asked if he might have the watch back. Without a word, the robber returned the watch and all the other jewelry that had been dropped into his hat.

In the stage coach there were two blacksmiths. The highwayman declined to accept their money, saying that they had to work too hard for it and needed it as badly as he did. It was only the tourists he was after. They could afford to be generous, he said.

WOMAN CONCEALS $200.

The Misses Wilkinson affected to be very awkward in getting out of the stage coach, and while they were doing it Miss Anna Wilkinson succeeded in concealing $200 in her clothing.

She feels that, having saved the $200 and procured a snapshot of a highwayman for $10, she got the best of the bargain.

Miss Helen Wilkinson is 25 years old and teaches in the Hoffman School, Fifty-fifth street and Haverford Avenue. She also has a class in the Sunday school of the Princeton Presbyterian Church, Saunders and Powelton Avenues. Her sister, Anna, is 23 years old and teaches in the school at Nineteenth and Reed streets.

The Wilkinsons live at 648 North Union street, West Philadelphia, and are well-to-do. The girls spend their salaries in traveling. This year they decided to take in the Portland Exposition, the Yellowstone Park and the Yosemite Valley. Their mother accompanied them. Mr. Wilkinson is visiting a brother in Duncannon.

Mrs. Wilkinson and her daughters had finished the Portland Exposition and the Yellowstone and were on their way to Mariposa Grove when the hold-up occurred. The date was August 15, and the exact spot was Cowan's Bridge, about three miles from Ahwahnee. The stage runs between Raymon and Wawona, carries little express and no mail at this season of the year.

KISSES BABES; DRINKS ACID

PHILADELPHIA, August 31.—Two attempts at self-destruction have swelled the total of those who have ended or tried to end their lives since August 1 to forty-one, and made good the reputation which August holds as the "suicide month."

Mrs. Margaret Burns, of 1324 South Colorado street, drank a bottle of acid, and then kissed her four little children goodbye. Then she told them that she was about to die, and that the best thing for them to do was to inform the neighbors.

When the mother dropped to the floor the oldest boy, Willie, aged 9, ran next door and cried out:

"Mrs. Stewart, mamma's dead! She took poison!"

Mrs. Stewart did what she could, and sent another neighbor for the ambulance. Mrs. Burns was hurried to St. Agnes' Hospital, and at last accounts was expected to recover. This is Mrs. Burns' third attempt to take her own life.

Mrs. Laura Erickson, 404 North Darien street, had had several quarrels with her husband lately and had left him, as she said in her anger, "for good." Early in the morning she was in an oyster saloon, 839 Callowhill street, while many other persons were seated at the tables.

Suddenly Mrs. Erickson drew a bottle from her pocket and, rising, waved it over her head.

"Here's luck to you!" she cried.

Then the woman drank the contents of the bottle, which contained laudanum. She was taken to the Hahnemann Hospital, and it is said she will live. Her husband was sent for, and the pair became reconciled.

ARRESTED IN BRIDAL ROOM

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., August 31.—Arrested in his bridal chamber, George Rutan, son of Peter Rutan, who lives near Wurtsboro, N. Y., was held in $500 in Wurtsboro for trial in Sullivan county next September on a charge of abduction.

Rutan was married by a Justice of the Peace at Phillipsport to Blanche Maguire, daughter of Mrs. Fred Maguire, of Summitville, whose husband was put to death in Sing Sing several years ago for the murder of Mrs. Gregory at Middletown, N. Y. Rutan is twenty-nine. His bride, according to her mother, is only fourteen, but she looks much older.

When the mother heard of her daughter's marriage she swore out a warrant for the arrest of the bridegroom, and the bridal couple were found in a Wurtsboro hotel. A constable gained entrance to the house, awakened the newly married pair, and when the bridegroom asked: "Who is there?" replied:

"I have a present from your mother-in-law which must be delivered tonight."

The bridegroom opened the bridal chamber door, the constable stepped into the room and said:

"Here's the present," and served the warrant.

The bride and bridegroom were taken to the residence of Justice Stanton, where a hearing was immediately held which lasted until breakfast time. Two lawyers stopping at the hotel were engaged, and a number of city guests in the hotel, awakened by the unusual event, and several of the townspeople, attended the examination.

The bride testified that she preferred her husband to any home, and that she was old enough to marry. Her husband said he was capable of supporting her.

The required bond for $500 was furnished.

"NOT FOR ME" SAYS MAIDEN

PHILADELPHIA, August 31.—"Please make me out a marriage license," said pretty and demure-looking Miss Genevieve Carter today to the Cupid who presides behind the license counter of the County Clerk. The deputy smilingly obeyed or started to. He wrote down the name and address of Miss Carter, and her age, given with a becoming blush. "And his name?" he asked.

"He hasn't any, that is, there isn't any he as yet," replied the applicant for a license. Naturally she had to explain herself, and she told the following story:

"I was engaged to be married about a month ago to a young man from New York. The date was set, friends invited, and the clergyman came to marry us. Everything was in readiness, but when the minister asked George—that was the young man's name—to produce a license, he did not have any. Well, I have not seen him from that day to this. He felt so ashamed at having forgotten to get the license, and he took the joking of my friends so seriously that he slunk away, and disappeared.

"This is the last time that such a trick will be played on me. So,

SINGER OF WAR TIMES WEDS AT NEST OF PEACE DOOR.

TAKES MATE AT 84 YEARS

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., August 31.—The peace conference has been honored with a peace wedding. John W. Hutchinson, surviving member of the Hutchinson family, the famous singers of the Civil War, was married in Portsmouth to Mrs. Agnes P. Everest.

Mr. Hutchinson, who once sang for war, is now singing for universal peace. He lives in Lynn, Mass., and the bride lived in Washington, but they were both here imploring the Russians and Japanese envoys to make peace and start a movement for the universal brotherhood of man; so Portsmouth seemed a likely place for the wedding.

WANTED ENVOYS TO SING.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson met in Washington early this summer, "while I was promoting the cause of peace," Mr. Hutchinson says. They came together to the Portsmouth conference, where he tried to get the Japanese and Russian envoys to sing the peace song which they sang at their bridal.

It was Mr. Hutchinson's idea to have every meeting of the conference opened with his song. The Japanese, however, pleaded that they did not understand our musical notation.

In his white suit, his chatelaine wrist bag, which he always carries, to set a new fashion for men, and his long, white hair and beard Mr. Hutchinson was a figure during the early days of the conference.

Mr. Hutchinson is rich, and has attracted attention lately by his many affairs of the heart. A few months ago he announced his engagement to a young girl, who afterward denied it. This caused Emily F. Whitherall, of Lynn, to sue him for breach of promise. The suit is still pending.

When this suit was filed a young woman reporter of a Boston newspaper, interviewed him on the woman he had loved. Mr. Hutchinson said that he loved the whole sex, and ended by proposing marriage to the reporter.

The bridegroom is 84, and this is the second time that he has taken out a marriage license. The bride is 80, and has been married twice before. On the marriage license Mr. Hutchinson's occupation is given as a "reformer." The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Horn, friends of Mr. Hutchinson.

At 4 o'clock a few friends assembled in the Horn parlors. Mr. Hutchinson, in a white dannel suit, which matched his venerable white hair and beard, sat before a high punch bowl, the contents of which, he explained, were entirely non-alcoholic. He passed out a glass of Maine punch to each guest and lectured on peace.

"The Japanese envoys were pleased by the talk I gave them," said Mr. Hutchinson. "I told them to get together in brotherhood with the Russians and begin the great movement for brotherhood. If they begin, France will join in and Germany and England, until the whole world goes for universal brotherhood."

Mayor William E. Marvin, of Portsmouth, who was to conduct the ceremony, announced that he was ready. The bridal party stood by the bay window of the Horn house. Miss Klara Horn, 8 years old, was bridesmaid, and Master Reginald Horn, 10 years old, was best man. The Mayor was about to begin when the bridegroom asked permission to make a few remarks.

BLESSING IN VERSE.

He stated that after many years he had found his life's mate; that they were wedded to work together for the cause of peace, and that they had decided to have only the legal ceremony. After that, the Mayor married them according to the laws of New Hampshire, adding this benediction, written by the bridegroom:

"Thou art wooed, thou art wed,
Thou hath taken the vows of a bride.
May wisdom watch over thy head,
And happiness walk by thy side.
May the man thou hast chose for thy life
Prove all that I wish him to be.
May he find every joy in his life,
Success to thy husband and thee."

When the ceremony was done, Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson proceeded at once to the piano in the Horn parlors and sang a song on peace written by the bridegroom and composed by the bride. Mr. Hutchinson played the accompaniment and carried the air in a baritone voice which is still fresh and sweet. Mrs. Hutchinson stood by the piano and sang contralto.

EARTH SWALLOWS A WOMAN

WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 31.—Mrs. Edward Moran, of North Scranton, as she was hanging clothes in the garden of her home broke through the sod and fell forty feet into a hole caused by a cave-in in the old workings of a mine underneath. She weighs 300 pounds and her weight caused her to break through the sod, the cave having occurred, it was later discovered, two days before.

No one saw the woman disappear and when the hole was found on the lawn by her daughter in alarm was given. Mr. Moran ran to the place, but the hole was so deep he could not see his wife. He shouted and asked if she was injured. Being assured that she was not, he summoned the members of the Cumberland Hose Company near by. A telephone message was also sent to the companies, which brought up several light ladders and additional ropes. The work of rescue was difficult, as the hole was so small and there was room for one man only. The rescuers had also to work carefully, as there was great danger that they would disturb the soil on the side of the hole and thus injure Mrs. Moran or bury her alive.

Strong planks were laid across the opening, and Mr. Moran was let down, guiding a ladder as he went, so that it would not touch the sides. Carrying a miner's lamp in his cap, he was able at last to see his wife who was wedged in tightly at a depth of forty feet. He passed a rope around her arms. Slowly Mrs. Moran was extricated from her extremely perilous position and there were cheers when the woman reached the surface. No bones were broken, but she is suffering severely from shock.

INDIAN MAIDENS ARE SOLD

OTTAWA, August 31.—The Indian Department of the Federal Government will spare no expense or trouble to get at the bottom of the stories telegraphed east from Vancouver reporting a traffic in young Indian girls and the open sale of some of the prettiest to be found on the Canadian Pacific Coast to dissolute whites.

The Federal Indian superintendent in British Columbia in his last report to the Government speaks in encouraging terms of the morality generally of the Indians on the coast, and points out that for such evils as are found to exist low-living whites, who are in the habit of introducing intoxicants among them, are chiefly responsible.

Some of these girls, it was asserted, had been sold and resold several times. One girl who had deserted her purchasers three times successively was again sold, her owner, a half-breed rancher, paying $1,200 for her and taking her to his ranch, from which she again fled.

In another case a man from New Westminster, who was engaged to be married to a young lady of that city, went north and took a fancy to an Indian girl, and is alleged to have bought her for $500, carried her away north, and is living with her.

The provincial authorities, it is stated, are endeavoring to procure such evidence as will enable them to bring the guilty whites before the courts and punish them so severely as to effectively put a stop to the practice, if it really exists.

Thinking it over, I came to the decision of having a marriage license ready for the next man who comes along and asks me to be his wife."

"Has he come?" she was asked.

"No; but he may. However, if you can't give me the license, I suppose I can't have it. But no more; this; not for me."

The curing of leaf tobacco is a most important process. It extracts all the original greenness and gives to the tobacco leaf its well-known and varied flavors.

The preparation of the leaf especially selected for the American Cigar Company's brands is entrusted to experts who thoroughly understand the peculiarities of tobacco, its essential qualities and the precise requirements for each brand of cigars.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic conventions of Oakland Lodge No. 103, K. O. P. F., was held at the home of Mrs. Benson, 1219 Magnolia street, Tuesday evening, September 5. The spacious Castle Hall was inadequate for such a convocation of fraternity, and to accommodate all it was necessary to encroach on that part of the hall reserved for floor work. Along with its own members were delegations from several branches of the order in Oakland and its environs, among which were interspersed representatives from the grand domains of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Colorado, Oregon and South Carolina.

Liberty Company No. 11, U. R. G. Gus Partello commanding, clad in their neat uniforms and glittering side arms, added brilliancy to the occasion and assisted in conferring the rank of Knight in long form on Esquires J. E. Abron and Sig Klein.

Captain Bernstein deserves commendation for the efficient team he had present, one that has but few equals in the California domain.

Following the conclusion of the rank work, the meeting merged into an affair of a social character.

The Knights have been entered into between the Scottish Rites branch of Masonry and the Pythian Hall Association, which is to the effect that the building known as the Scottish Rites Cathedral, on Fourteenth street, between Webster and Harrison, will be removed.

There are two courts in Alameda county that seem to be almost of the same mind. The courts referred to are Athens and Alameda, A. O. F. Court Athens on its last meeting night concluded to organize a team to carry out all the initiatory work. James Deal, of 2315 First street, employed at the Ferry Bridge, says: "For three years I was subject to attacks of backache, each successive attack lasting for a long duration and much more acute than its predecessors. Some of them lasted for three days at a time and although I knew from the backache and from the action of the kidney secretions that there was something radically wrong with my kidneys, I was unable to check the trouble, let alone cure it. It was a mystery. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills induced me to try that remedy and my backache went to the drug store for a box. It helped the last attack and I purchased a second. The attack ceased and the kidney secretions resumed their normal condition. This may be the means of relieving others in and around Oakland who are annoyed with kidney complaint and are at a loss to know what to do to get relief."

OAKLAND CIRCLE NO. 6.

A very enjoyable Monday evening was spent at Oakland Circle No. 6. After a short business session the following program was heartily received: Piano solo, Sister Holmes; lodge paper, by a member; recitation, by Sister; reading, by Sister; a German selection; Sister Ellis, a reading; Dr. F. Wilkins, a monologue; Dr. Swasey, from Court No. 12, gave some vacation reminiscences; Brothers E. E. and Foster, acted marks. All then repaired to the banquet room, where a happy hour was spent and the dainty lunch boxes soon emptied. The next lodge meeting will be on September 11 at 8 o'clock. One big Broadway. No session on Labor Day.

SILVER STAR LODGE, A. O. U. W.

Silver Star Lodge No. 2, A. O. U. W., held its first evening at home last Thursday. There were quite a number of visitors and friends of the lodge present. After the hall was given the program was opened by an overture from Brother and Sister Almquist; remarks by the grand lady of honor, Sister Flora Morill; song by Brother James Roach; recitation by Sister; reading, by Sister; and O'Connor, song by Sister; and reading by Sister Babcock.

After the program was finished the hall was cleared for dancing and refreshments were served between 8 and 10 o'clock. The lodge gathered up five applications to help the evening along.

VETERAN LODGE, I. O. G. T.

Veteran Lodge No. 7, I. O. G. T., will meet this evening at 8 o'clock to transact a little business before the doors are opened to the public, which will be done at 8:15 for admission to the regular monthly social. Admission 10 cents. All invited.

The members of Veteran Lodge, in conjunction with those of Viking and Oakland Lodges, gave a royal banquet to the delegates attending the annual session of the District Lodge, which convened last Saturday in Loring Hall. Sister Laura Osborn was elected district treasurer and Brother Charles Wallitz was appointed district messenger. Sister Chaffer of Veteran Lodge ably conducted the banquet, which was a great success.

YOUNG MEN'S INSTITUTE.

Oakland Council No. 6, Y. M. I., has been meeting with considerable success of late, and the members are determined to keep things moving for the next few months. On Thursday evening, September 14, a whist party will be given in the council hall in Foresters' building, Clay street, near Thirteenth. The success of the affair is already assured, as the officers and committees in charge are up to it. It is the hope of the council that a large number of prizes will be awarded.

The twenty-first Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute, recently held in San Francisco, was one of the most successful ever held by the order. The membership in this jurisdiction was largely increased during the year just closed through the efforts of Organizer Stanley, and the same system of organization, with light appropriations, will be adopted this year.

The delegates from Oakland Council No. 6, D. J. Hallahan and W. V. Harrington, will make a report of the Grand Council findings at the next meeting of the council.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD.

Next Monday evening Oakland Camp will hold open house to all Woodmen who like to enjoy a social evening. The program will be the most interesting, consisting of music, both vocal and instrumental, and several addresses will be made by prominent Woodmen. J. J. Hermann, consul commander of Los Angeles Camp of that city, will be the speaker of the evening. The celebrated degree team of Forest Camp will give an exhibition drill. Major E. G. Hunt, commander of Oakland Camp Degree Team, will act as escort for the evening, besides giving the marching evolutions. Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not been the best he could be for his suffering son. ## BURNS AND BARRY BOTH SAY BATTLE OF PITCHERS RESULTS IN A VICTORY FOR OAKLAND

EDDIE SMITH WILL REFEREE FIGHT BETWEEN BARRY AND BURNS

Barry is Sure Tommy Burns is He Will in Confident Win. Mood.

Only Three Hits For Giants.

"I do not think this fight with Tommy Burns is going to be an easy one, but I do think that I am going to win. I was never more confident in my life and I have advised all my friends to place a bet on me. Why, when we fought at Tacoma I should have at least got a draw, and in my opinion, I was clearly entitled to the decision, but the referee was Tommy's manager, which I found out later, and for that reason he got the decision. I am in fine condition for this fight and never felt better in my life. The weight has been easy for me, and I will be as strong as an ox. You will see a great improvement in me since I boxed here before, and if I win this fight, which I am sure I will do, I want to meet Philadelphia's O'Brien, Bob Fitzsimmons or Tommy Ryan."—Statement from Barry.

Portland, Or., August 31.—A pitchers' battle between Portland and Oakland went ten innings yesterday. In the ninth, as if Graham had given the game away by permitting the Giants to tie the score of the Computers, but in the tenth he gave Eddie Devereaux the chance to score by hitting a two-bagger. The score was 3 to 0. McLean went back to work for Portland yesterday. The summary:

PRETTY BERKELEY GIRL TO BE MADE 'VARSITY' MAIDENS IN ELECT INSTRUCTOR OF FRUITVALE CLUB

Miss Madge Woolmington, Clerk for Chief Vollmer, "Co-Eds" Organize to Pursue Practice of Exercise They Love—Members Enrolled.

BERKELEY, August 31.—Berkeley will soon enjoy the distinction of having the only woman police officer in California. Miss Woolmington, a pretty young woman of the brunette type, stenographer and license clerk in the office of Chief of Police Vollmer, is to be promoted. In order that she may be able to transact any of the regular police work of the office she will be deputized by Chief Vollmer and will then be a regular member of the college town's Police Department. So far as known she will be the only young lady in the State, if not in the United States, enjoying this unique distinction.

Although only 17 years of age, and a girl of refinement, Miss Woolmington is as brave as a soldier. She enjoys the excitement that goes with the work of a well-organized Police Department, and takes a keen interest in studying the various types of people who for one reason or another require the attention of the guardians of the peace. During her few months' stay in the office she has had in various ways to deal with offenders of all degrees and conditions, from truant boys brought in to professional criminals.

A person of keen intelligence and a quick and observing eye, Miss Woolmington naturally finds much material for serious thinking in a day's routine in the Police Department. She has confided to intimate friends that some day she may gather all her interesting experiences into a book.

Miss Woolmington was appointed to her present position by the Town Trustees on the recommendation of Chief Vollmer, who is an intimate friend of the Woolmington family. Mr. Vollmer has known the young lady since she was a tot of two years, and always has taken a great interest in her welfare. From his large fund of experience as a member of the secret service of the United States and the head of the Police Department of a town of 30,000 inhabitants he has given her much information and advice that will stand her in good stead as a deputy in his office.

University Library Secures a Treasure.

BERKELEY, August 31.—The library has acquired by purchase a complete file of the Californian, edited by Charles Henry Webb, and published in 1864-1867. It is very rare and no other library in California is known to have even a fragment of the set.

"Co-Eds" Organize to Pursue Practice of Exercise They Love—Members Enrolled.

BERKELEY, August 31.—An important step in the athletic activities of the women students of the University has been taken by the organization of a fencing club. The movement to place this beneficial and exhilarating exercise upon a definite basis dates back to last April, when a small class was formed and worked under Professor Magee's direction until near examination time. With this class as a nucleus a permanent organization has been formed this year, which it is believed will become an important adjunct to the department of physical culture. There is a possibility that when the work is fully planned a half unit of University credit per term may be allowed for its performance.

His visit to Berkeley was to inform himself concerning the University.

It Has Made Possible Valuable Work.

BERKELEY, August 31.—Professor F. W. Putnam, director of the department of anthropology in the University, has just issued a bulletin entitled "The Department of Anthropology of the University of California," giving an account of the history of the inception and establishment of the department and a statement of the work accomplished during the first four years of its existence. The extensive work of the department during this time has been made possible by the generosity of Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, who during her travels has even had the object in mind of securing a portion of collection relating to the early history of man for the benefit of the University. In order to make the collections of greatest value Mrs. Hearst has borne the expense several systematic and scientific explorations and researches, which have been the means of securing invaluable material for the University museum. The growing importance of this department is manifested by the presence in San Francisco of the Anthropological Association of the United States, who will be the guests of Mrs. Hearst and the department of anthropology of the University today.

This bulletin contains a detailed report of the explorations in California, begun in 1889 under the patronage of Mrs. Hearst and known as the Ethnological and archaeological survey of California. The work involved in this survey has been carried on by Drs. A. L. Kroeber, Philip Mills Jones and P. E. Goddard. Professor J. C. Merriam is in charge of the investigations on the antiquity of man. Each of these lines of investigation are under the direction of Professor Putnam, who at that time assumed supervision of the department. In 1903 Professor Putnam became active head and director of the department, and the work in progress was co-ordinated and expanded.

SAYS STATEMENTS ARE FALSEHOODS
Chief Engineer Messer, Who Was Forced to Resign From Light Plant, Replies.

ALAMEDA, August 31.—Joseph O. Messer, who resigned under pressure after serving for fifteen years as chief engineer of the municipal electric light plant, near of the municipal electric light plant, and who has prominent fraternal affiliations, replies in tart fashion to the assertions of Superintendent Joseph B. Kahn, reflecting upon his competency. He says: "In answer to the published, authorized statement of J. B. Kahn relative to the causes of my late resignation as chief engineer of the electric light plant I would state that Mr. Kahn's statement contains several falsehoods, and is largely prompted by malice. Until recently the most friendly relations existed between Mr. Kahn and myself. In fact, it was through me that the gentleman was given the position he now holds. He changed it with general incompetency. In regard to the fact that I made use of entirely too much money, Mr. Kahn well knows that I was not the cause of that matter, and that we both agreed that one barrel a month was the proper quantity. As to the break-down of the engine, Mr. Kahn knows that I am in no wise responsible for that, because the engine was in a state of breakdown. The accident happened under the shift of another man. I do not intend to be drawn into any disagreeable controversy in this matter. I will only say, in conclusion, that all Mr. Kahn's public statements are wholly untrue, due to incompetency on my part as chief engineer, but is of a purely personal nature. It was my friend, as he should be, until about the second Thursday in August, or the day after the last meeting of the board of directors of this city. An event happened at that time which very much disappointed and offended me, and which I will not discuss. I am responsible for the disappointment, but I am not responsible for the disappointment. The disappointment was caused by the resignation of a fraternal society. The resignation of J. F. Yaw to be appointed to the vacancy caused by Messer's resignation has been filed with the City Trustees. Yaw has been an assistant engineer at the light works for some time and it is understood that he is favored by Superintendent Kahn for the position, which pays $100 a month, while his salary heretofore has been $85 a month.

WILL HOLD INQUEST.
ALAMEDA, August 31.—An inquest is to be held at the local branch morgue on Sunday at 11 a. m. in the case of Charles E. Forgy, the locomotive fireman of the Southern Pacific line who was drowned on the further side of San Leandro bay while in bathing in a slough near the "Sink" on Tuesday. The remains were sent to San Francisco yesterday, and the funeral is to take place from the home of his bereaved parents in that city. His father, Emil Forgy, called at the local morgue to claim the remains. He stated that deceased was 24 years of age, and as far as he knows, unmarried. Forgy had stated, however, that he was married three months ago. The deceased was a member in good standing of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, No. 662, 622, issued by the Coal-tinental Casualty Company.
